CRAZED BY REPORTS OF GOLDFIELD FAME

Woman Takes to Desert and Is Captured in a Pitiful Condition

SADDEST CASE OF THE GREAT STRIKE

An aged woman, whose name is unknown, crazed by the stories of the gold discoveries in the Tonopah district, started for Goldfield penniless, was put off the train and later found roaming about the desert a raving maniac.

This is the sad story told by reliable Reno citizens upon their return from Tonopah last night, who learned the facts from reliable sources yesterday afternoon on the train out from Sodaville.

Before she was captured, in her frenzy, she had attempted to kill two children and when pursued by the authorities, hid away in a lumber pile and refused at first to come out, claiming that the pile of lumber was her castle and that she had the right to remain in it unmolested by those who were attempting her capture.

She had wandered about the desert until she was almost exhausted and the state of her malady was aggravated from continued suffering and thirst. When finally captured, she was placed in charge of a train crew and taken to Hawthorne where she will be examined for insanity.

It appears that the woman boarded a train on the Carson & Colorado line yesterday morning without a cent on her person with the avowed purpose of seeking her fortune in the gold mines near Goldfield. When the conductor approached her for her fare, she talked incoherently though giving him to understand that when she should make her fortune in the gold fields she would return and pay him.

At Luning, a number of miles east of Hawthorne, she was ejected from the train. The people of that place, not knowing the facts, paid no attention to the unfortunate woman. She struck out in the supposed direction of the gold fields, wandering several miles into the desert.

She finally came upon a homesteader's camp and attacked two children near the place. Every indication led to the belief that she was

FLATTERING STORY OF THE GREAT TONOPAH.

Reno Citizens Return With Wild Enthusiasm and sing the praises of the Great Southern Nevada Gold Discoveries

Lyle Durley, of Barndollar & Durley, returned from Tonopah last night. He is full of enthusiasm about the Tonopah country. He did not visit Goldfield. Mr. Durley is an old practical miner and his opinion is valuable on the subject of mining. In speaking to a Journal representative about his trip, he said:

"Tonopah today is the greatest gold mining camp on earth. I honestly believe that within the next two years Nevada's great gold district will turn out more gold than did Cripple Creek in six years after its discovery and the famous yields were made."

"The rush is just beginning. I expect one of the greatest in history. The town of Tonopah will be even greater than was ever the Comstock."

"I expect to return to the fields at once. I have several options and have the utmost confidence in them. The country has in no manner been overdrawn."

WILL HUNTER IS NOW IMPROVING

Word reached this city yesterday that Will Hunter, who is confined in the hospital in San Francisco with typhoid fever, was a little improved. The doctors say that today is the crisis in his case and that if he lives through the day, he will probably get well.

trying to kill them for some imaginary purpose. The children escaped her, however, and reported the matter to their parents who secured the assistance of neighbors and attempted to capture the old woman.

She taxed her last energy in a desperate run for a pile of lumber belonging to a settler and took refuge in this. When the citizens came upon her she made a desperate fight, claiming that she was in her own castle and that she had a right to defend it against her pursuers.

When finally overpowered, the lunatic was taken to Luning, where she was turned over to a train crew and taken back to Hawthorne, the county seat of Esmeralda county, from which place she will doubtless be sent to the State asylum for the insane.

Her malady was recently acquired and it is believed that she may recover.

SO PREDICTED BY A RUSSIAN

Chinese Plead That Battle of Mukden be Abandoned to Save Spoilation of Graves of Their Sacred Dead

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent declares that a Russian statesman whose name, if revealed, would wing his utterance with lightning rapidity over the globe, asserted Friday that it was his impression that the fight might end sooner than the people imagined, not through mediation, but through mutual recognition of the ruinous nature of the conflict, which would lead to negotiation that would result in a Russo-Japanese alliance.

He contended that Russia in the end could exhaust and crush Japan, yet Japan could hold out long enough to place an intolerable and useless strain upon Russia. Russia, therefore, is confronted with the alternative of either Japan's ruin, purchased by ruinous sacrifices, or of a truce of cordial friendship, followed by that offensive and defensive alliance which for years constituted the ideal of the Japanese government.

By Associated Press] LONDON, Sept. 17.—Under date of September 14th the Daily Mail's correspondent at Mukden telegraphs the following:

"On instructions from Peking the Chinese government has made protestations politely requesting both armies not to fight at Mukden, owing to the danger of the demolition of the sacred tombs. No response has been received. 'Rich merchants are preparing to escape to Sunminth'."

"There is a shortage of rice." The Daily Mail's correspondent at Shanghai reports that the Japanese scheme to raise the first national army of men from thirty-two to forty years of age a majority of whom have previously served with the colors will provide a total strength of 120,000 men who will be ready for service in a month.

Commanding Officer Claims That to Saloons and Brothels Should be Laid the Cause of More Desertions Than All Other Agencies

By Associated Press] DENVER, Colo. Sept. 16.—Brigadier General Frank D. Baldwin, commanding the Department of Colorado, forwarded his annual report to the Secretary of War today. The report says saloons and questionable resorts near the barracks are responsible for a large number of desertions from the regular army, Department of Colorado.

The report says "Desertions can in a large part be attributed to the malign influence of saloon and brothels situated near the camps, in seducing enlisted men from the paths of decency. This is only another argument in favor of restoring the army canteen which provided places of amusement and social intercourse where men could get light refreshments under restraining and decent and ordinary influences."

"I trust that the sale of beer and wines under proper restrictions may again be authorized in the past exchange."

ALTON B. PARKER HOLDS CONFERENCE

By Associated Press] NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Several important questions were settled by the visit of Alton B. Parker to New York and his conference with the Democratic leaders. It was determined that Senator Gorman should have an active place in the campaign, but Taggart was not to be superseded. The conference of the Tammany leaders with Judge Parker resulted in the settlement of the differences in Greater New York so far as they relate to National and State issues. The governorship and other State offices were discussed but nothing definite was determined.

Another matter left open is whether Judge Parker will make speeches during the campaign. Other conferences will be held next week before Judge Parker's letter of acceptance is made public.

Indiana Golf Tourney By Associated Press] RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 16.—The State championship golf tournament opened auspiciously today on the links of the Richmond Country Club. The contestants include representatives of the golf clubs of Indianapolis, Marion, Anderson and other cities of the State. The play will continue throughout the remainder of the week.

Kills His Babe, Shoots Three Others and Blows Out His Brains

A DIVORCE CASE CAUSED TROUBLE

By Associated Press] ASHLAND, Oregon, Sept. 16.—As a consequence of domestic troubles O. E. Monroe, laborer, today shot to death his two-year-old baby girl and attempted to murder his wife, Mrs. Dunlap, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Gardner, his sister-in-law and then committed suicide.

Monroe and his wife have lived so unhappily that she left the family home a few weeks ago and went to her mother's. She commenced action for divorce and during the pendency of the case, which was to have been tried tomorrow, was awarded the custody of the child.

This morning Monroe met his wife and mother-in-law down town and followed them home. He entered the house and deliberately pointed a revolver at Mrs. Dunlap, whom he fancied was responsible for his martial unhappiness. Mrs. Monroe observed her husband's act and before he fired seized his arm, disturbing Monroe's aim so that he inflicted nothing worse than a painful wound in Mrs. Dunlap's jaw. Still further enraged at his wife's interference, Monroe turned the revolver upon her and shot her through the back, inflicting perhaps fatal injuries.

Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Monroe's sister who lives in the next house heard the shooting and rushed into her mother's house to learn the cause and was fatally shot. Monroe took the baby in his arms, placed the revolver against her, pulled the trigger and then blew out his brains.

Last of the Wreck The last of the wreck on the Southern Pacific near Lighthouse seven miles west of this city was removed yesterday. Fishermen who were trying for trout in the neighborhood of the wreck last afternoon reported to The Journal last evening that they saw the last vestige of the wreck dragged away by a locomotive. It consisted of a coal tender which was loaded down with trucks and other debris of the accident.

HOUSE VOTE ON THE IRRIGATION BILL

Nevada Republicans have made the claim that the Irrigation Law was passed in a Republican House and Senate. Here is how they passed it in the House. The vote is taken from the Congressional Record.

Against Passage	13
Total	91
Republican—	68
For Passage	68
Against Passage	42
Total	110

Democratic plurality for passage, TEN.
Republican majority for defeat, TWENTY-NINE.

ROOSEVELT AS A FREE TRADER.

THOSE who have the right to speak for the Democratic party have repeatedly declared that the Democracy is not a free trade party and never was. But inasmuch as Democratic editors and spellbinders are asserting that the Democratic is a free trade party and insist that Democrats are great sinners in that regard, it will not perhaps be considered impertinent to inquire whether it is really a sin to be a free trader? If it is a sin, we ask to introduce to our readers a very great sinner in that respect, a most eminent sinner, who is much in the public eye and under the limelight. On one occasion he used these words:

"The repeal of the salt tax was an especial favorite of his. He was perfectly right in attacking the tax and deserves the greatest credit for the persistency which finally won him the victory."

Do you know who uttered these words, gentle reader? And to whom did it refer? Let the Republicans who read this, fall into an epileptic fit when we state that it was none other than Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, President of these United States. He was speaking of the great fight which Thomas H. Benton of Missouri, a statesman of the first rank, made to place salt on the free list. Colonel Benton kept up the fight for a quarter of a century and when he won he declared that he could hear the rocks and herds on a thousand hills bellowing out their love and gratitude to him.

The above quoted paragraph is found in the "American Statesman," series "Life of Thomas H. Benton," by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. Query: If Thomas H. Benton deserved "the greatest gratitude" for placing this great necessity on the free list, as Mr. Roosevelt says he did, how does it happen that a Democrat of today should be a great criminal to attempt to put some other necessity on the free list? In the same book Mr. Roosevelt uses the following language:

"Free traders are apt to look at the tariff from a sentimental standpoint, but it is in reality purely a business matter and should be decided solely on grounds of expediency. Political economists have pretty generally agreed that protection is vicious in theory and harmful in practice, but but if the majority of people in interest wish it and it affects only themselves there is no earthly reason why they should not be allowed to try the experiment to their hearts content. The trouble is that it rarely does affect only themselves, and in 1828 the evil was peculiarly aggravated on account of the unequal way in which the proposed law would affect different sections. It purported to benefit the rest of the country, but it undoubtedly worked real injury to the planter states, and there is small ground for wonder that the irritation over it in the region so affected should have been intense."

Again he uses the following words:

"It must be admitted that the tariff did some harm to the south and that it was natural for the latter to feel some resentment at the way in which it worked."

These passages are not quoted for the purpose of casting any slur on Colonel Roosevelt, but for the purpose of applying to the stand-patters the old saying that "people who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

BAMBOOZLING VOTERS.

"In our own time and in our own way," as Senator Lodge arrogantly puts it, a further postal investigation will be undertaken. "In our own time and in our own way," we will attend to such revisions of the tariff as may be necessary, say the Republican leaders. The Republican platform, however, does not endorse Senator Lodge, or perhaps when the Senator wrote the platform he thought it would be best to say as little as possible about such an irritable subject.

been shown not only by the postoffice frauds, but by the land frauds, the department of justice scandals, the Cittern glove scandal, the Indian Territory scandals, the Philippine scandals, the District of Columbia scandal, and other frauds and scandals. In fact, no department of the government is free from them, and it is no wonder that now even in their own time and in their own way do the Republicans care care to publicly mention their determination to defeat us and introduce a bill in the house of Representatives to readjust rates of duty, and if the trust majority in the senate defeats the bill, we can't help it, but will try again if you will continue us in power. But for God's sake don't trust the Democrats. This is the way they are trying to bamboozle the voters. Will they succeed?

PROSPERITY.

HOW much of this hurrah for prosperity is sincere? says the Boston Post. Do the statistics of exports and imports measure the comfort of our working people? Is not the cost of living and the difficulty of obtaining employment far offsetting other considerations?

Take the case of the municipal lodging house in New York, which entertains unfortunates who do not have the price of other accommodation. For the first six months of the current year there have been 41,265 persons cared for, as against 28,417 in the same period last year.

These are not tramps. "A majority of our guests," says the manager of this charity, "are men of middle age who are able to work, men who want work, but can't get it. We have comparatively few old men, and only about five per cent of those who come here are women. Our records show, for example, that the average age of the men during the past month was 41 years. We encounter a few chronic idlers who would like to find a permanent home, but we weed these out as rapidly as possible. I am convinced that a very large majority who come here are simply victims of hard times."

What is the matter? Similar conditions prevail in this and in other cities. Is it possible that our vaunted prosperity favors those who do not work and leaves the real workers in poverty?

Pension Commissioner Ware has put a stop to the publication of pension lists. At one time the names, addresses of pensioners and amounts paid were given to the public. Mr. Ware put a stop to this, saying many lawyers took advantage of the information to offer pensioners for a stated sum, to obtain a more liberal allowance. It takes practically all the time of two clerks to compile the list, and it is not necessary to the work of the department.

It cost $80,000,000 more millions to run the government under Roosevelt than under McKinley during the Spanish American war.

TO SET MURDER CASE ON 30TH

Sevener, Charged With Murder of Welch, Acts as Attorney for Himself and Companions

The case of the State of Nevada vs. Fred Roberts, Frank Williams, J. Sevener and P. W. Gorman, the four men charged with the murder of Jack Welch, was to have been set for trial yesterday morning, but on motion of the defendants the setting of the case was continued until Friday, September 30th.

At 10 o'clock, the four prisoners, who had been found guilty in another court and condemned to die and afterwards given a new trial by the Supreme Court, appeared in court to have the time set for their new trial. They were heavily ironed and were guarded by Sheriff Hayes and Deputy Sheriffs Maxwell, Upson and Shields and Assistant Chief of Police McNelly. The men walked calmly into the court and took their places in the prisoners' dock. District Attorney Pike appeared for the State and the defendants were not represented by counsel.

After the prisoners had taken their places, Judge Currier spoke as follows: "This is the time set for setting of the trial in the case of the State of Nevada vs. Fred Roberts, Frank Williams, J. P. Sevener and P. W. Gorman, are the defendants in court?"

Sevener, who acts as attorney for himself and the other criminals arose at this time and spoke as follows:

"If your honor please, the defendants in this case, in the absence of counsel, would ask the court to grant a continuance on these grounds:

"Now, the attorneys that were appointed by the court, have not notified the defendants whether they have surrendered the case or not. Also an attorney that was employed by one of the defendants, has not notified the defendant whether he has surrendered the case or not. Therefore, we would ask the court to grant a continuance until such time as we are informed whether we will be represented here by counsel or not.

"Now, I am sure that the court will appreciate this statement, that the defendants in this case have been placed in rather a peculiar position. We have been confined for a period of ten months in the death house over in Carson under the death watch. After the bill of exceptions had been sent in by the attorney to the Supreme Court and a stay of execution was granted by the Supreme Court, the death watch was still continued. After the Supreme Court decided the case and rendered their decision, sending the case back for trial, the death watch still remained, and the orders were that no communication, no correspondence, not even a visit allowed in this death chamber. The same practice is in force here. We have been told that we could receive relatives, and as it happens in this case, your Honor, our relatives are far from here.

"Now, it appears to me, your honor, that we are not ready at the present time to have our case set. Mr. Darnelle—Rev. Darnelle, of Carson—is interested somewhat in us men and in the case. He is arranging with some of our people to see whether he could employ proper counsel. And I am sure if you grant us a stay, that in a short time we will be able to come here and have the case tried regularly and orderly; not in haste, as it was done in Winnemucca. It was a hasty proceeding there. And as I said, we have had no chance to attend to our own business, and the facilities here are such, and the remuneration of the court to appoint lawyers here so small that they cannot afford to come clear over there to Carson and attend to our business every day or so.

"Now, I hope, your Honor, that you will consider these grounds, these facts in this case, and grant us a continuance, because it is no intention on our part or an effort on our part to stay this proceeding at all. We are anxious to go to trial, but we would like to go represented, and the case regularly and orderly arranged here in this court. I hope you will consider this, your Honor."

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB

Held One of Its Most Enjoyable Meetings at Investment at Investment Hall

The autumn term of the Twentieth Century Club opened up very pleasantly yesterday afternoon.

The club officers entertained, and a delightful time was had by all who attended—their name was legion. Investment hall was full to overflowing. The happy hum of gay conversation, alternated with the sound of sweet music.

Miss Ziegler favored the club with a very sweet little song, Mrs. Butler accompanying.

Miss Shirley, the ever-popular elocutionist, gave a fine exposition of the contrast between the honeyed tongue of the man before marriage and his caustic comments to the wife of his bosom a few years after she became the queen of his life.

Miss Shirley was particularly happy in the character of the coon lady encouraging a piqued lover. This she gave as an encore.

The club enjoyed a real treat when Mrs. Frank sang "Bid me to Love" and "If the Waters Could Speak as They Flow," with Mrs. Layton at the piano and Signor Sardon playing the violin obligato. Never has the Century Club had anything finer. It was the sort of harmony that lifts the soul to lofty heights.

Mrs. O'Rourke, in her own inimitable dramatic soprano, gave "Violets" and "Sing Me to Sleep" as an encore. Miss Levy accompanied Mrs. O'Rourke.

Mr. Carlyle brought down the house by his clever imitation of a country girl trying to get a place as a grand opera singer.

"Spring's Awakening" showed Mrs. Layton to be in fine voice, Miss Field accompanying. No one sings the airy little songs in just such a catchy way as Mrs. Layton does. In response to a prolonged recall she gave "If No One Mourns Me" in such a way as to wreath every face in smiles.

After the program a delicious fruit lunch was served with small cakes, and everybody proceeded to "eat, drink and be merry."

The coming year promises to be one of signal success for the Twentieth Century Club, which is one of Reno's most popular institutions.

CLARENCE HALL IS INJURED

Popular Conductor Has His Foot Caught in Bumper While Switching at Hazen

Clarence Hall, who for some time past has been in charge of the local train between here and Winnemucca, met with a serious accident at Hazen yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock. In attempting to adjust the couplers between two box cars his foot slipped and he was badly crushed and cut.

The injured man was brought here during the afternoon. The foot was dressed by the railroad physician. One side of the foot is terribly lacerated, the wound being about six inches long and quite deep. The attending physician is of the opinion that it will be possible to save the foot, though Mr. Hall will be laid up for some time. The injured man is well known both here and in Reno. For a long time he was in charge of the "singing" train between Reno and Truckee. A few weeks ago he was promoted to a regular run on the east end.

For Assemblyman
The announcement of T. J. Jones, regular Republican nominee for Assemblyman from Washoe county, appears in this issue. Mr. Jones may well be termed one of the pioneer residents of Sparks. He came here before there was much of a town, invested his money, erected a number of good buildings and is now interested in a number of Sparks enterprises. In all public affairs he takes an active interest and has proven himself on more than one occasion a good, enterprising citizen. Mr. Jones has many friends in Sparks and will make a good showing.

MISS LILLIE BURRUS IMPROVING RAPIDLY

The doctors attending Miss Lillie Burrus say that she is much improved and that the chances for her recovery are very favorable. She regains consciousness, which she retains for hours at a time and is able to take considerable nourishment.

The German specialist, who was called to this city to operate on her, has returned to San Francisco without performing the operation. After seeing Miss Burrus he said that it would be useless to operate on her, but that she might recover without an operation. He then consulted with Dr. Baldwin and other local physicians attending her, and together they prescribed a treatment for the young lady which seems to be helping her a great deal.

Stirs Fond Recollections
How dear to your heart is the recollection of the old-fashioned pies and pasties, that were made by the dear old mother in the long ago. The management of the "Old Homestead" were fortunate enough to secure a chef who received his first lessons in the culinary art from his grand old mother. Patrons of this popular restaurant say that a piece of pie prepared by the hands of Chef W. H. West tastes like a "letter from home." CHANCE FOR ENTERPRISE

Harriman Street Is Badly in Need of Grading and Is an Eyesore to the Town

The work of grading the Prater tract is now well under way. Yesterday the grader was taken through Monroe street, clear to Harriman. This insures a good highway into almost the heart of the town. It will be a feature that the residents of the Prater tract as well as the citizens of Sparks proper will appreciate.

Monroe street is practically the only street on the Robison tract that is being graded. A great improvement would be made and property values increased proportionately if some of the enterprising residents on the Robison tract would see to it that Harriman street, going from the O'Sullivan to the East Reno tract was well graded. As it is now, the thoroughfare is certainly not a good testimonial for a town nor the people who live in it. A few dollars well expended on this street would be wisely invested and result in the removal of what is now an eyesore to the town. The quicker this work is done, the better for all concerned. It seems strange that property fronting on this street is selling for $100 per front foot. It will be well for the parties interested to look to their laurels. It is possible to drive business men to the back streets. Lack of enterprise regarding good streets will do it.

UNDERWENT OPERATION FOR THROAT TROUBLE

Mrs. C. W. Kay, wife of Chief Dispatcher Kay of the Southern Pacific Company was operated on last evening for a gathering in her throat. She has been suffering from the gathering for several weeks and the physicians decided that an operation was the only thing that would relieve her. Dr. Heppner performed the operation and from all indications he was quite successful. Mrs. Kay was resting easily last evening and will, without doubt, be alright in a few days.

Clem Webb of Booming Churchill County Pays a Visit to Friends at Sparks

Clem Webb, one of Churchill county's well known residents, was visiting Sparks friends yesterday. It is more than one year since Mr. Webb last visited this section of the State. "Where your town now stands was then a big alfalfa field," he said last evening. "I must say that I am agreeably surprised at the rapid manner in which you have built this young city. It is so substantial, too. There is not a town in Nevada that can boast of better business blocks than you now have on your main street. At the present rate it will not be long before Sparks is a keen rival with Reno for first place in the list of the State's largest cities."

Fallon and Hazen of course must be counted, for they, too are coming to the front. Everyone is busy at Hazen now, while Fallon is getting livelier every day. The business men are doing a large trade, new homes, and business blocks are being erected, and the outlook was never brighter.

During his visit here Mr. Webb is the guest of H. E. Kronnick, the architect.

GROCERYMAN

Would Locate in Reno But for the Discrimination in Freight Rates

A wholesale groceryman from Salt Lake City, Utah, was in Reno yesterday looking for a location. But after looking over the city and investigating the field he was very much disappointed. He realizes that this is a great shipping point and a feeder to a large portion of the country in every direction of the compass.

But the same old stumbling block was encountered. He found that the shipping rates would prevent the satisfactory establishment of a wholesale establishment here of the kind he desired. No other rate can be secured from the east than a straight rate to Sacramento and flat rates back from that point.

In speaking of the matter to a Journal representative, he said:

"Until such a time as when Reno can secure fair rates direct from the East such as Sacramento and San Francisco are now able to secure, she will be unable to establish wholesale business institutions within her limits."

"The discrimination is not only an outrage to Reno but the large circle of towns surrounding her to the north and south and east and west."

Committees From San Francisco and Sacramento Meet Grand Officers in Reno

The first of the excursion trains carrying the officers and delegates of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows from the East to San Francisco, where the Sovereign Grand Lodge will convene, passed through this city last night. The Grand Officers were met by committees from Reno, San Francisco and Sacramento and tendered a warm greeting. The officers of the San Francisco and Sacramento lodges then accompanied the Grand Officers to Sacramento, where they will be given a reception. The Sacramento delegation brought a large number of boxes of choice California fruit with them, which was placed in baskets and distributed to the officers and members of the Grand Lodge in the trains in this city.

On reaching Sacramento, the Grand Officers of the Sovereign Lodge will be escorted from the train to the Odd Fellows hall, where they will be given a reception. They will then go to the capitol, where they will be addressed by Governor Pardee, and other State officers. The remainder of the day will be spent in viewing the city of Sacramento, and enjoying the hospitality of the Odd Fellows of that place.

The Grand Officers will take the train for San Francisco this morning from Sacramento and will arrive there at 7 o'clock. They will be accompanied by the delegation, which met them here last evening and will be met by the 1st Battalion of the 2d Regiment of the Patriarch Militant of San Francisco, under the command of Major C. H. Kornbeck. The Patriarch Militant will escort them to the Palace Hotel, where they will make their headquarters.

The officers of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, who passed through Reno last night with the first train and were met by the committees of reception were: Grand Sire, John B. Goodwin, of Georgia; Deputy Grand Sire, W. E. Wright, of Pennsylvania; Grand Secretary, Frank Grant, of Baltimore, Maryland; and M. Richard Muckle, of Illinois.

They were met by the following committees: San Francisco: Colonel J. W. Harris, Major F. L. Turner, Major C. E. Benedict, Captain R. C. Black and General M. A. LeRoy, of the Iowa Department, which is already in San Francisco.

Sacramento Committee: W. F. Purnell, O. W. Erlwin and John C. Ing, of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce also Past Grand Master C. W. Baker, A. P. Raymond and Mrs. D. J. Mannix. The Reno committee consisted of the following Odd Fellows: F. C. Undike, A. W. Holmes, E. L. Drappo, D. W. O'Connor and John Nayocovich.

On Monday the officers of the Sovereign Grand Lodge will be given a reception by the Patriarch Militant of San Francisco and in the evening a reception will be given to all of the delegates in the Mechanics' Pavilion. The remainder of the week will be taken up on competitive drills, receptions and parades. The grand parade will take place on Friday, Tuesday will be Rebekah day and all of the arrangements for that day have been turned over to the San Francisco members of the Rebekahs.

HEAD-ON COLLISION BETWEEN HAND-CARS

A head-on collision between a hand velocipede and a gasoline car occurred on the line of the Southern Pacific railroad between Reno and Sparks last Thursday night, which resulted in the demolition of the velocipede and the inflicting of slight injuries to the riders. The front of the gasoline car was broken and frame work was partially destroyed, but the men riding it succeeded in jumping off before the crash came, thus escaping injury.

About 12 o'clock two men who work in Sparks boarded the car and started for the railroad town. They were late and were pumping the car with all their might when a puffing gasoline car appeared ahead of them. The men on the gasoline car saw the velocipede coming when it was about twenty feet from them and succeeded in shutting off the power and jumping off the car. The riders of the velocipede were less fortunate, however, and before they could jump the collision occurred.

One of the men was thrown down a steep embankment for a distance of about ten feet and was knocked unconscious, the other was caught in the wreckage and had his legs badly bruised and cut. He was not seriously hurt, however, and with the assistance of the men who were riding the gasoline car, soon got free from the wreckage. He then ran to the assistance of his comrade, who soon came to and found himself alright aside from a slight headache.

The wrecked velocipede was pulled from the track and the gasoline car continued on its way with two badly frightened but uninjured passengers. The men who were riding the velocipede piled the broken frame work on to the running gear of their machine and slowly pushed it into Sparks, where it is now undergoing repairs.

PACIFIC ROAD

Building Will Soon Begin and Reno Will Have Another Strong Feeder

Reno will now probably have another railroad. If she doesn't get it directly through her limits she will have it as a feeder at such close proximity that it will be the next thing to a railroad of her own.

The Western Pacific has at last decided to go through Beckwith Pass instead of taking the pass farther to the north. This will bring her so close to Reno that she will possibly enter the town or at least establish a trunk line to this place.

The statement bearing out this idea is reliable. It is also reliably stated that the building of the road will begin at once. It will begin at Salt Lake City and will be rushed through to completion.

Finance and Trade, one of the most reliable publications in San Francisco is responsible for the information. In its last issue of Thursday, September 15th, in which it quotes one of the principal directors of the road, Fred M. West, of Stockton, California, who says:

"It has been decided that the line shall go through Beckwith Pass. That was the engineers' finding, and it was reported to the directors at their meeting on Wednesday. The Southern Pacific has a good deal greater grade than that in many places. With valuable franchises and rights of way the Western Pacific has purchased 36 miles of railroad, extending southwest from Stockton toward the harbor of San Francisco, this portion of the line being now in operation. The Western Pacific has also obtained terminal facilities, passenger station, railroad shops and other properties in Salt Lake City. Construction work is going to commence at Salt Lake just as soon as possible, also at Sacramento, San Francisco, and Stockton. Just as soon as they can get the preliminaries arranged the work will commence. I have no idea as to the time, but it will be very soon. It will only take a short time to get the material on the ground. When they are ready to use it, the first work will commence from the Salt Lake end because they have their own line there. The line from San Francisco to Salt Lake is the one which will be known as the Western Pacific. There it will be connected with the other Gould lines, but those lines will retain their present names. The roads will form a link just the same as the Southern Pacific, Central Pacific and Missouri Pacific. There is more money behind this road than there is behind any of the rest of them. It is going to be the biggest thing for Northern and Central California that ever happened."

The first social dance of the college year took place at the University gymnasium last evening and was attended by nearly all of the students in the college as well as by a number of friends from the city. The affair was under the management of Juan Brambila, of the class of '08 and was a great success in every way.

A fine orchestra was in attendance and the floor was in the best possible condition. On account of being the first dance of the year the old students took charge of the floor and introduced the new college people and made them the guests of the evening.

The social dances of the University are among the most enjoyable functions of college life and are always well attended. They are given by a club, but nearly all of the young men of the school belong to the club and do everything in their power to make them pleasant affairs.

FOR MISS SKINNER

The Contest Is Getting Lively and No One Can Can Fortell the Outcome

ONE VOTE

FOR
The Journals Scholarship at Atkinson's Nevada Business Institute.

In December, 1932, The Journal offered a scholarship for the full Stenographer's Course at Atkinson's Nevada Business Institute to the young lady who might, by popular vote, be declared the most popular in the State of Nevada. Miss Kate Kincart of Reno was the successful candidate. This fall The Journal offers another, and still more valuable scholarship in the same institution to the young man or young woman who secures the most points, according to the scale which appears below.

Atkinson's Nevada Business Institute is a training school of the first rank. It is a branch of Atkinson's Sacramento Business College, of Sacramento, Cal., which has an enviable reputation all over the Pacific coast for over thirty-one years of high class work in fitting young people for business life.

This scholarship which The Journal is offering is a full scholarship in the Business Course, good for ten months and valued at $80. Or, if the winner prefers, he or she may have a scholarship in the Stenographer's Course, good for seven months, valued at $60. It is optional.

Here is some information regarding the contest.

REV. UNSWORTH SPEAKS AT GENERAL ASSEMBLY

The General Assembly of the University of Nevada was addressed yesterday by Rev. Samuel Unsworth of the Episcopal church. His address was very interesting and the students and visitors of the college appreciated it very much. Mr. Unsworth was followed by Professor Church, who read the rules of the Cane Rush to the assembled students.

The rush will take place on the foot ball field at 9 o'clock this morning and it is expected that it will be the hardest battle ever fought between two classes. Both sides are evenly matched and each is determined to win if possible.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

THE ORIGINAL REMEDY THAT "KILLS THE DANDRUFF GERM."

SCHOOL CHILDREN

Every school child should know that baldness is a contagious disease, caused by a microbe. Prof. Unna, of Hamburg, Germany, discovered that dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair, and final baldness are produced by a germ or microbe that passes from one head to another, where it burrows into the scalp and by multiplying and extending deeper and deeper into the hair follicles, saps the life of the hair root and produces baldness.

IT TAKES YEARS

to produce complete baldness, for the action of the dandruff microbe is not constant in every case. It is governed by predisposition, by the state of health, by environment, but particularly by the endeavor made to combat the growth the development of the dandruff microbes, which can only be destroyed with Newbro's Herpicide.

tell the same story of its wonderful success.

AN IDEAL HAIR DRESSING.

It is fortunate for those who understand the new rules for scalp cleanliness that the antiseptic qualities of Newbro's Herpicide make it the most delightful and refreshing hair dressing imaginable. Chronic baldness is incurable; save your hair, while you have hair to save.

GIVES SATISFACTION.

"Your dandruff cure has given good satisfaction and I believe it is a good tonic."

MANY CASES SET FOR TRIAL

Judge Currier Arranges a Time for Hearing Civil Matters in District Court

Law and motion day coming on regularly in the District Court yesterday Judge Currier first disposed of the case against the prisoners from Winnemucca, who are charged with murder, and then acted on the following cases:

The case of Earlston vs Earlston, was set for Monday, September, 26th. In the case of the State of Nevada vs Harry Pettit, charged with assault the Judge ordered that it be continued until September 30th.

It was ordered that the case of the Washoe Power & Development Co., vs. the Nevada Power, Light & Water Co. be dismissed without prejudice, at the plaintiff's costs.

On the motion of the attorney for the State in the case of the State of Nevada vs. Antonio Carrella, it was ordered that the case be dismissed.

The case of Gabriel McNeill vs. Wallace McNeill was set for Monday, September 26th.

Davis vs White & Stevenson was set for Wednesday, September 28th.

A jury was demanded in the case of Hulbut vs Morrill and the setting was passed until September 30th.

The case of Seawall vs Seawall was set for Monday, September 19th. Coulter vs Coulter was set for Monday, September 26th.

The former setting of the case of Greenwood vs Gosse was vacated and the matter was set for trial for September 29th.

An order was made confirming the sale of real estate of the estate of Maria S. Hall, deceased.

It was ordered that the administration be summary in the matter of the estate of Bagley.

Special Meetings

Dr. B. F. Richards of San Francisco will deliver a series of lectures at the Adventist church beginning tonight at 7:30. Special instructions will be given in hygiene, calling attention to the importance of proper diet as related to health. The importance of proper combinations of foods will be explained and illustrated by practical demonstrations.

Dr. Richards is not a patent medicine vender but a Christian physician and laboring in the interest of suffering humanity having traveled extensively in America as well as in Europe is prepared to tell us how to regain lost health, and how to keep it. These lectures are free and all should take advantage of this opportunity, especially those in ill health. Come early and bring your friends.

A False Idea Corrected

Some people seem to think that unless they expect to be professional bookkeepers they don't need a business education. That is a wrong idea. Everyone needs to know how business is done, if he expects to have anything to do with his fellow men, no matter whether he be merchant, doctor, farmer, painter or idler. He needs to know the laws of business or he will be an "easy thing" for schemers. No matter what your vocation in life you need such a course as Atkinson's Nevada Business Institute is giving.

Drunken Indians

The police last evening arrested a number of Indian men and mahaleys and threw them in the city jail. They say that the Indians are able to get all of the liquor that they want and that it is impossible to ascertain who sells it to them as the Indians fear that if they inform the whiskey dispensers will not sell them any more of the elixir that makes them feel alternately good and bad.

Bacon Was Mistaken

Frank Bacon, the actor, stated that he had been attached in Oakland by J. E. McCormack on the same debt which he was recently attached in Reno, and which fact he urged as a defense to the Reno action, it appears was mistaken. Upon investigation it has been found that no such suit was ever instituted in Oakland.

Opening a Success

Mrs. Dennis Sullivan reports that the fall and winter display of millinery, which began yesterday at her store already gives promise of being the most successful yet held by her. This year Mrs. Sullivan is showing an elegant line of exclusive dressings in stylish millinery.

Home on a Furlough

James P. Olding midshipman in the United States Naval Academy, is spending several days in this city visiting old friends. He will spend several weeks at his home in Carson City before returning to his duties in the Academy.

Chop Suey

Wing Yuen and Ah Fat will open a first class Chinese noodle and chop suey house on or about September 15th. Private rooms and first class service. First class meals American style. S13w

ELLEFORDS CLOSE TONIGHT

Gave Good Show to Crowded
Houses Throughout the Entire Week

The Ellefords played to a crowded house again at McKissick's last night. The popular company always draws a crowd and pleases it. There may be occasionally a few who criticize adversely, a few always do any play, but the majority and a large majority at that are pleased with the Ellefords.

The bill last night was "Beware of Man." Of course the leading woman changed her mind on this subject before the play was over, but the whole was a pleasing production and depicted human nature in its true light.

This afternoon at the matinee "Little Red Riding Hood" will be produced especially for the children and the cast is good. A treat is promised for both old and young at the matinee. It will be well patronized.

Tonight will close the engagement with "Through the Breakers." This is one of the company's best plays. It expects to sustain itself to the last and will do its level best tonight. Theatre goers will not miss the last play by the company this engagement.
